

A CHANGE OF GUARD

As some of you around the district may know, Spry Earthmovers PTY LTD owned by Ray Spry and operated by both Ray and Ted Emerson over the past 40 years, has now changed hands and company name. The new company, Spry Civil Construction, has been formed by new owners Sam and Kaitlyn Rasheed who originate from Meningie.

Spry Civil Construction is now under the direction of Sam Rasheed (a past employee many years ago) who has had a wide range of experience in the civil construction industry. Sam began his earthmoving career working local for a number of years, until pursuing more experience around the country, spending many years working interstate for large and small civil contractors in Western Australia, Queensland and New South Wales. 3.5 years ago

Sam returned to SA to help manage the construction of The Bend Motorsport Park, which greatly increased his management abilities and civil construction skill set.

Sam has always aspired to own his own earthmoving business and is extremely excited about the opportunity to live and work in Murray Bridge and will continue to employ local people. The changing of the name is to signify a broader civil service for our old and new customers as the civil market begins to heat up in the region with major developments happening in and around Murray Bridge over the next few years.

Providing a great level of service for your small residential projects as well as larger commercial projects, the company still holds the same values that Ray has moulded into it over many years; honesty, reliability and professionalism.

Spry Civil Construction have over 50 pieces of plant and equipment such as:

- Small and large Excavators
- Rubbertyre Excavators
- Backhoes
- Loaders
- Landplane Scrapers
- Rollers
- Dozers
- Water trucks
- Skidsteers

If you are planning your next civil earthworks project, make sure you consider talking to your local company, Spry Civil Construction. Let us help you achieve all your goals on budget and on time.

Sam, Kaitlyn and the rest of the Spry Civil Construction team would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Ray and Ted for their achievements in the past and in particular the contribution Ray Spry has made to this region. Ray has been an instrumental part of the development of this region and is a very well-known and well respected person in the community. We wish them all the best in the future.

For Ray, we will always have a digger for you to drive if you get bored in your second retirement.
